

Excelsior University

April Newsletter 2023

Career Boost - Veteran Albert Samano applies credits from prior Navy training to earn a degree and launch a successful career. For some servicemembers, earning a degree can be difficult but thinking ahead to a career after the military can be even more daunting. There are many questions to answer: What will I do? How will I get a job? How far will my education take me? For Albert Samano, of Round Rock, Texas, those questions found answers when he came across Excelsior University, and his experience with the online institution helped set him on a path for success in his civilian career... Read more

A Meaningful Career - Linette Bumford's past experiences and degree have laid the foundation for her vocation and her work.

"Our work is not our vocation," says Linette Bumford, of Laurel, Maryland. "Our vocation is what we're doing while we're alive on this earth. It's our purpose, it's our legacy." Bumford spent much of her life trying to find her purpose, and it wasn't until earning a business degree from Excelsior University (then College) that she discovered what path she was meant to take...Read more

Key Resume Skills to Land Your Next Marketing Job

Do you want to work in marketing? Great! Job opportunities are plentiful, but so is the pool of candidates you'll be competing against, and you need to make sure your resume can stand out from the crowd. But what skills are top employers really looking for, and how can you optimize your resume to land your dream job in marketing? Read more

To learn more about Excelsior University and the benefits of being a partnership student, schedule a virtual meeting with your Partnership Manager, Robert Lyons, by emailing - RLyons@excelsior.edu

For more information about Excelsior University and the partnership program, please contact the Partnership Admissions team (844-843-9296)