

M.A. EDUCATION

OVERVIEW

ACU's Master of Arts in Education program trains students in the art and science of teaching. They are given the information and training necessary to develop into skillful educational leaders and educators.

This program is designed with two purposes, 1) to equip students without education degrees to transition to careers in education, including certification in elementary or secondary education; 2) students with degrees in education can advance their careers in specific content areas or certificate specializations, enabling them to be instructional coaches, teach dual-enrolled courses, teach at a community college, or engage in other leadership opportunities.

REQUIREMENTS

- ◆ Undergraduate bachelor's degree from an institutionally accredited organization.
- ◆ Minimum 3.0 cumulative undergraduate GPA.
- ◆ Contact information for two character references that can be reached if needed. These should be academic or professional references.
- ◆ Evidence in the application of agreement with ACU's statement of faith and core convictions, a deep and credible Christian faith, and vocational fit with the program.
- ◆ Copy of IVP Fingerprint card or receipt showing the application for an IVP Fingerprint Card.
- ◆ For programs leading to certification, Content Area Exam taken or proof it is scheduled to be taken.
